

Students often struggle with time management due to competing commitments and distractions, leading to poor academic performance. There is a need for an online tool that helps students effectively organize their schedules, set priorities, and track their progress.

Details:

One of the main things I struggle with in school is making sure I keep to a schedule and block out time to do work for all of my classes. I know that there are many different calendar apps out there that can do what I said in my problem statement, however I want one that I can customize to be to my exact liking and needs. One thing I don't like about a lot of them is they feel, almost patronizing? Like giving massive congratulations for accomplishing small tasks, maybe some people like that but it bothers me. The big thing I want for this tool is to make sure to keep it simple. I don't want a complicated UI with things hidden behind layers of options, I want the user to be able to understand everything without much effort.
